M. A. Moore and wife returned Thursday last from their honeymoon, spent in southern California. They will probably go out to the mine today, where Mr. Moore is general manager of the Dixie Queen property.

Mrs. Edna Steen and her sister, Miss Flora Lewis, were Kingman visitors this week from Yucca, Miss Lewis coming here to consult a physician, having been quite ill the past few weeks.

These stormy nights impress the people of Kingman with the importance of its new street lighting system. It will not be long before an effort will be made to extend the system to other parts of the town.

George A. Bonelli, H. F. Williams, John Hamilton, Ross H. Blakely and Jack Maddux will leave for Phoenix tomorrow, where they will attend the grand lodge Knights of Pythias, as well as take in the attractions of the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Ayres arrived Thursday morning last from San Francisco and will remain here some time visiting with friends. Mr. Ayres still holds mining property in this county and will look after these interests before returning to San Francisco.

Carl G. Krook and Frank L. Hunt are getting things in shape for a duck hunting expedition to the Mohave valley, where it is said that ducks are plentiful on the small lakes. They expect to leave Kingman Monday next and spend a week in the valley.

Harvey Hubbs came up from Yucca yesterday and this morning departed to Walnut Creek, where he has a cattle range. Mr. Hubbs states that there is plenty of water in that section and intends to make the range one of the best in the western foothills of the Wallapais.

Mrs. Jungi, who recently purchased the Kingman House, is now building to the alley, the new addition covering the whole width of the lot. This new building will give the house much needed rooms, as it has been crowded with lodgers the past two months.

This week a carnival company made its appearance in Kingman and did a very good business. The company was of the usual variety of street carnival concerns, having a ferris wheel, merry go-round, moving picture and vaudeville shows, besides all kinds of games from the pinwheel to the peanut vendor. Owing to cool weather coming on it is possible that the show will tie up at some of the near by towns.

Leonard Hamilton, of San Francisco, a brother of John and Martin Hamilton, arrived in Kingman early this week and may conclude to remain.

The new bakery building on Oak street is almost completed, the masons are putting in the ovens and the public will soon be treated to the real baker's products. Kingman has long felt the need of a real white bakery and the new institution is sure of a large patronage.

A license was granted this week by the board of supervisors for the sale of liquor at the station of Topock, which would indicate that that place is to have some importance during the work on the pier and reconstruction of the big bridge. The board evidently overlooked the law which prohibits the granting of such license and makes it unlawful to run such a place within the territory of Arizona.

Charles Burkman, a well known miner of this county, died at the Mercy hospital at Prescott, last week Thursday. He went to the hospital a week prior to his death and underwent an operation for abscess of the liver, from which he never recovered. Mr. Burkman worked at the Golconda mine last winter, afterward going out to the Expansion camp, at Union Pass. He was well liked by his fellow workmen and had many friends in this county.

William Cope, one of the contractors on the Silver Legion mine, at Stockton Hill, was severely injured by being struck on the head by a descending bucket, while at work in the bottom of the shaft in that mine, yesterday. It was the custom to hang the bucket in the shaft when the water was all bailed out, but the engineer misunderstood the orders and let it run to the bottom, Cope receiving the full force of the falling bucket. He was brought to Kingman and patched up by Dr. Whiteside and will soon be able to return to work.

The report of the territorial board of health shows that Mohave county is the second healthiest county in the territory, Apache coming first, with a death rate of 5.4, while Mohave has a rate of 6.1 in 1000. The highest death rate per 1000 is Pima, with 23.1. Mohave county shows the death rate that all the counties would ordinarily show were it not for the high death rate of consumptive tourists in the larger counties of the territory, afflicted people going to Pima and Maricopa counties on account of the milder winter climate and better accommodations.

A big camp is being established at Topock and work is soon to be started on the pier in the Center of the Colorado river, which is to carry the weight of the big steel bridge. It is understood that the bridge across the Colorado river is showing the strain of the big engines and that fears are entertained for its safety. The bridge is to be so strengthened that it will withstand the weight of still larger locomotives than those now in use, and will also be widened to carry a double track. The work on the new pier will consume about six months.

A bond issue of 600,000$ has been arranged for and the mortgage covering the bonds has been filed in the office of the county recorder of this county. The company will use the money obtained from this issue of bonds to dike the river and clear up the lands. At the town of Cottonia the lands are being cleared and laid out into lots. After the plats have been made and filed it is understood that these lots will be put on the market. The company will build a large hotel and other buildings for the use of the public and the accommodation of the growing business of the company itself. The site of the town is one of the most picturesque in the valley and will make the place a favorite spot for winter tourists.

District Court Adjourns.

The session of the District Court adjourned last Saturday afternoon, having completed the criminal work of the court for the term, with the exception of the Gubalke case, which goes over at the request of defendant to the adjourned term. Five defendants were found guilty of felony crimes and were sentenced to terms in the penitentiary, while much civil business was disposed of.
